

Bethel University, College of Arts & Sciences Accredited Business Programs

ACBSP Business Programs Accreditation ~ updated January 2025

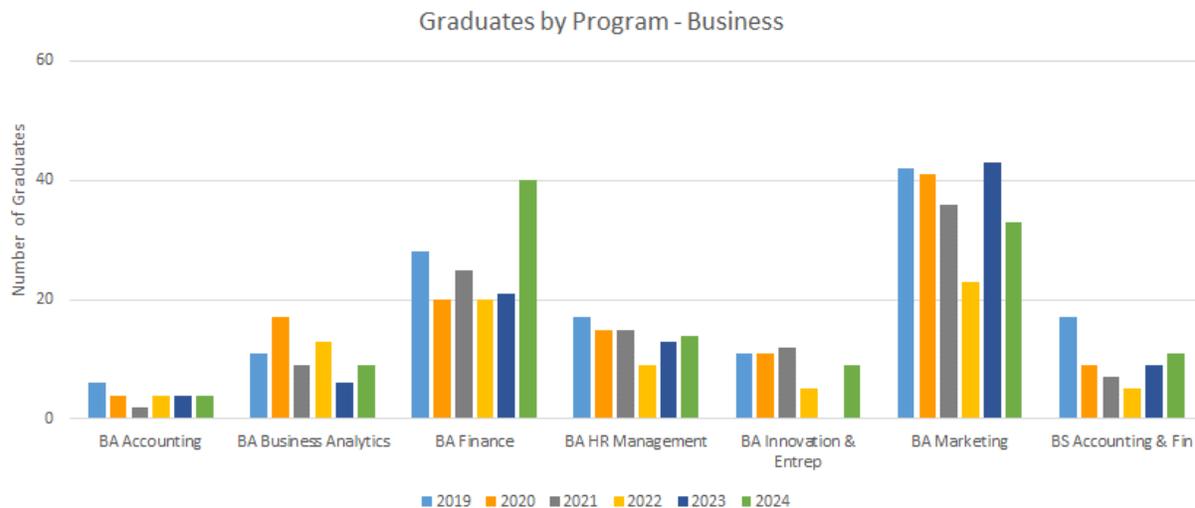

Founded in 1988, the Accreditation Council for Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP) is a global business education accrediting body with 1200 members in 60 countries. They are the only accreditation organization to offer accreditations at all levels of collegiate business educational degree programs, from associate to doctoral.

ACBSP ignites a standard of excellence with an accreditation process based on the Baldrige Education Criteria for Performance Excellence. By evaluating aspects of a business program's leadership, strategic planning, quality of academic programs, faculty credentials, educational support, and relationship with stakeholders, ACBSP assesses a business program's ability to offer a rigorous educational experience, and commit to continuous quality improvement. The goal is to ensure that students gain the skills employers want from their educational investment.

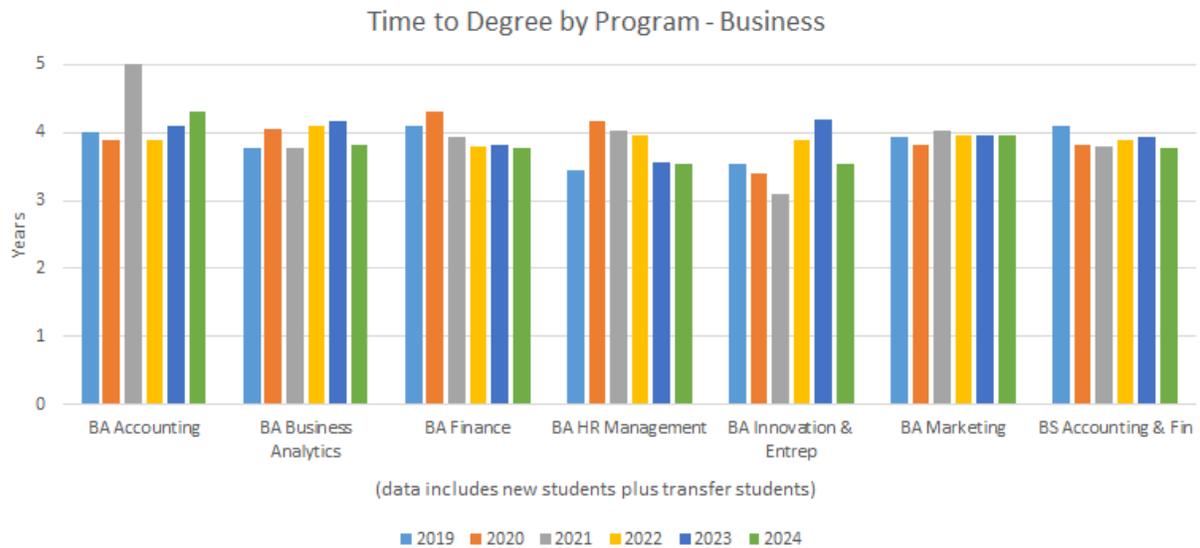

Business Programs Graduates—Bethel University, College of Arts & Sciences

Accredited programs in the Department of Business produce approximately 20% of the graduates at Bethel University's College of Arts & Sciences. Following is a breakdown of graduates by program.

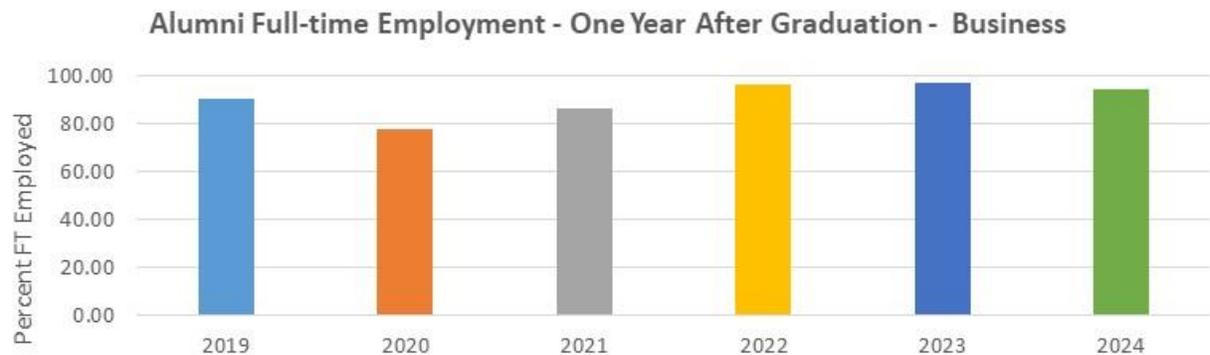

Business Programs Time to Degree—Bethel University, College of Arts & Sciences

The average time to degree for new student in the Bethel business program graduates is 3.9 years over a six-year period.

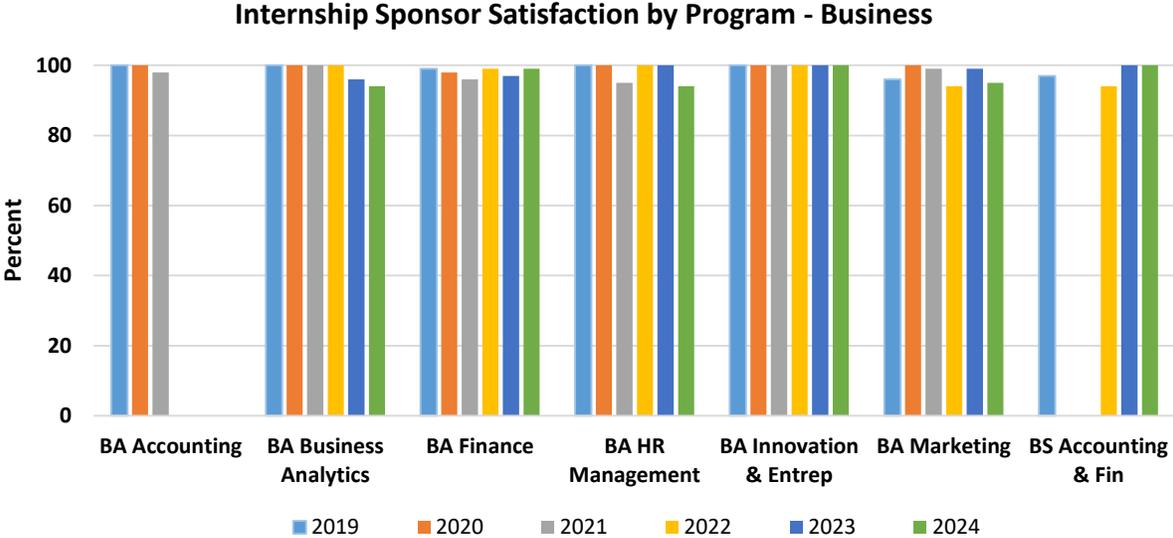

Employment of Business Graduates—Bethel University, College of Arts & Sciences

In a survey of alumni one year after graduation, an average of 90% of Bethel business program graduates reported being employed full-time over a six-year period.

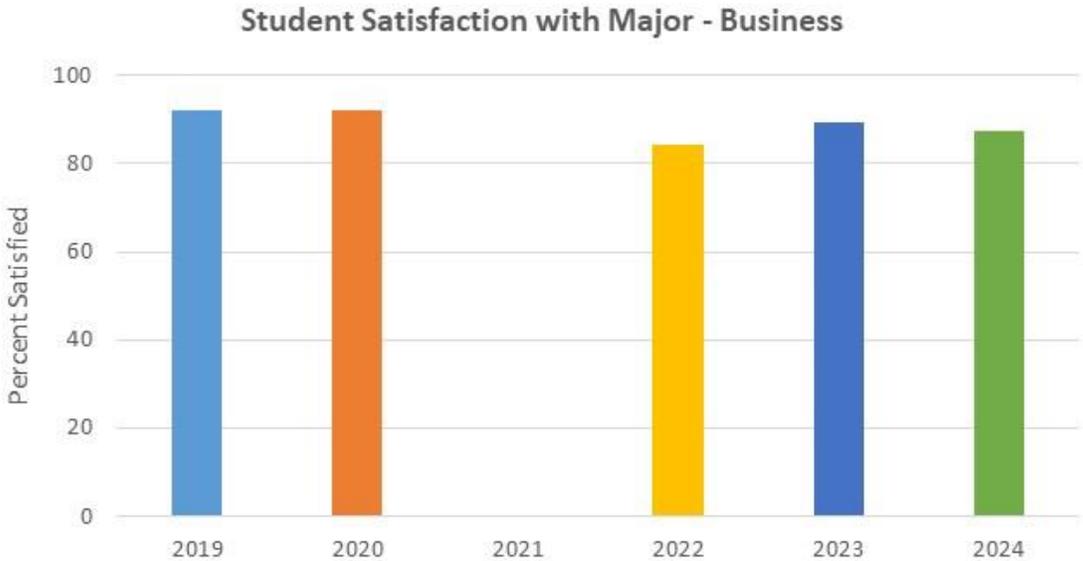

Internship Sponsor Satisfaction—Bethel University, College of Arts & Sciences

In a survey of Bethel business internship sponsors, over 98% reported satisfaction with business student interns over a six-year period.

Business Student Satisfaction—Bethel University, College of Arts & Sciences

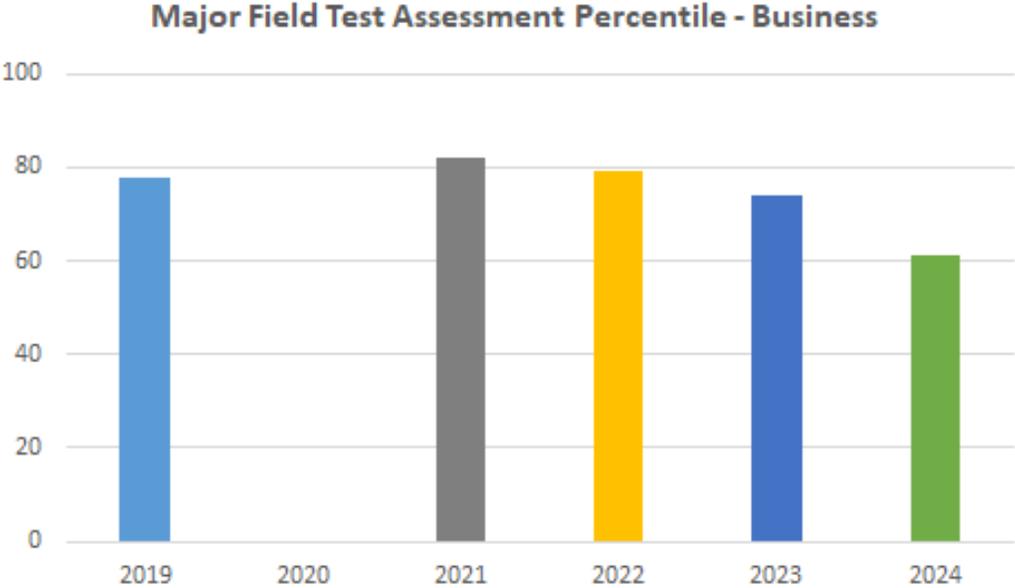

In a Bethel Campus Life survey, business students reported an average of 89% overall satisfaction with educational experiences within their business major over a five-year period.

(note: survey not administered in 2021 due to pandemic)

Business Major Field Test Assessment—Bethel University, College of Arts & Sciences

Aggregate scores on the Business Major Field Test, a comprehensive test of business knowledge, place Bethel business graduates on average in the 75th percentile when compared with those from other colleges and universities over a five-year period.

(note: test was not administered in 2020 due to pandemic)